

house 4 · city apartment in a national monument

During the hundred years of its existence, the various inhabitants have again and again adjust the interior of this monumental building according to their needs. The original interior design was completely vanished. Only with the help of archival drawings, the original spatial qualities of the building emerged.

All afterward additions have been removed, and the original spatial proportions have been restored to their original spacious layout. By research and analysis of the original architecture, a contemporary interpretation of it has been created, by means of a careful selection of materials and detailing.
